Woman Captures Shark With Hands

Disturbed While Bathing, She Drags Fish Ashore

VENICE, Cal., July 23,-Most nomen would have screamed; some would have fainted, but Mrs. J. B. Suced of San Antonio, Tex., did neither. She just grabbed a three-foot fish, which is believed to have been a member of the shark family, in her hands and battled with it until she reached shore, where it was killed by other bathers.

This is all happened in Venice yesterday, where Mrs. Sneed, a wealthy resident of San Antonio, stopping at the Waldorf Hotel for the summer, Mrs. Sneed, with a party of friends, was bathing in the ocean almost opposite her hotel resterday morning when she felt something brush against one of her stockingless legs. Be-lieving it was a piece of sea-weed, she stooped, reached beneath the water to pull it away and her hand came in contact with a live fish. Impulsively she seized it and tried to pull it trom the water. She has parhold she started for shallow water pulling the fish with her waded toward the shore. as she waded toward the shore. As she towed the fish along she called for help and other bathers huried to her assistance. The fish, three feet long, has a very small head and large sharp teeth curving inward. There are long transparent fins on the top and sides. The tail is long and sinewy.

Referring to the opium evil, the speaker charged that this vice, which was "forced on us by England, and encouraged by her," was still being perpetuated by British exports of opium to China, although China herself had in the future for the roungest of reputation to stamp out the opium evil, that she even imposed capital punishment for opium crimes.

"But, he continued, "China cannot stamp out this evil unless she has the help of England, whose consent we have not been able to obtain. the help of Engiand, whose consent we have not been able to obtain. Since the rapid suppression of the cultivation of the poppy in China, the British government has gained encormously through the importation of oplum into China, because the value of this blood-sucking drug has risen from 300 to 500 per cent.

"Dr. Cantile, an English author, estimates that China has so far, made a sacrifice of $113,225,000 in order to get rid of this drug while Great Britain, as shown by the receipts from the indian treasury, has made a sale of oplum to China amounting to $77,005,000 within the same period. Therefore, we appeal to the world and most particularly, to the nation who has forced this terrible curse on our people, for assistance and support in our efforts to eliminate this greatest of all evils that have undermined the social and moral conditions in China. "China has accomplished great reforms during the last decade. Slavery has been abolished in many parts of the country. Foot hinding is no longer practiced. Laws have been recently passed to prohibit the practice of polygamy. The people have now developed among themselves a national unity and consciousness for the welfare of the country. Such a national sentiment China has never cherished before. Behind it, there is an eagerness for upilit and a new interest in the moral attitude of the people as a whole toward public problems.

discuss the report. Among the charges are:

"Liquor is sold in dance halls and elsewhere in violation of police regulations.

"Immorality is encouraged in girl employes of certain concessions of the zone.

"Young girls are soliciting on the streets of the city."

The reports were gleaned by agents of the interest took charge of portions of the investigation. Sociological experts from the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and leading lights in the Purity Congress assisted. Among these were, Kate Walter Barrett of Alexander, Va., head of the committee on rescue work; Mrs. Flora M. Freeman, superintendent of the Flerence Crittenden Home of San Jose; and Dr. M. J. DANCING CLOAK TO EVIL.

"It is true that a large city can not be run like a village," said Mrs. Barrett yesterday. "But dancing should not be made a cloak for the social evil and drinking. The greatest source of vice which we found here in San Francisco was the drinking in dance halls."

CHINESE CONDITIONS.

The social and mosal conditions in China were reported upon by Kee Ourgans, of Tientsin, China, formerly consult general at San Francisco, who deplored the fact that in adopting western ideas, China was also acquiring many vices that exist in the west. Among other things he said:

"The habit of smoking cigarettes is becoming prevalent among many of our boys and girls in China. Millions of dollars worth of cigarettes are imported annually, and to check the growing habit, an anti-cigarette society has been formed, consisting of influential men of China, such as Dr. Wu Ting Fang, and much is being achieved through their efforts."

SAYS ONLY UNIONS CAN MAKE HIM PLAY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23. -Harry C. Payson, chief musician of the Coast Artillery Corps of the State of California, was temporarily kept from being dishonorably discharged yesterday from the service by a ruling of Presiding Judge Troutt of the Superior court by means of an injunction.

Payson was to have been discharged from the service at a meeting of the officers of the National Guard in the armory at Fourteenth and Mission streets last night, be-cause, it is alleged, he failed to report for duty at the time of the Liberty Bell parade. Following his act. Colonel George A. Schastey issued orders to have him arrested the moment he set foot inside the armory. Payson claims there is no existing rule whereby he can be made to play at any time except that specified in the Musicians' union

Supreme Court Hands Down a Decision on Initiative Petitions.

RICHMOND, July 23.-In a decision just handed down the Supreme Court has issued a writ ordering the city council of Richmond to call an election forthwith to allow the people to vote upon the location of a city hall here. The decision came after eight months of litigation during which the superior court of Contra Costa county and the appellate court of this district sustained the stand of the council that the contract to purchase a city hall site and building from George S. Wall, realty operator, was an administrative and not a legislative act and therefore not subject to the initiative or referendum section of the city marter. with to allow the people to vote upon

The Supreme Court decision holds that the election must be called. Attorney Stanley Moore, who represented the city council, claims that the case will now so back to the appellate court for retiem, where new facts will be produced, and that "it will be a long time, if ever, that an election on the quession is held." Attorney W. T. Jearney for Burg Bros., rival reality operators who, with John H. Nicholl of Oakland, desires the city hall upon their holdings, claims that the election must be called at once. It is expected that the attorneys for the council will ask for a writ of review before the Supreme Court.

The city council has moved into the Supreme Court.

The city council has moved into the building given by Wall and is preparing to stay there until forced out by the court. It is claimed also that the city vill be subject to damages if it violates its contract with Wall to keep the city hall on his site for the next ten years.

SEES ANGEL AND T. R. IN DREAM TRAVERSE CITY, Mich., July 23.

-Noah Forton, a prominent citizen of this place, tells a correspondent of curious dream he had a night or two ago. He described it as follows: In the sky appeared a large ball of fire: in this blazing ball a picture of Colonel Roosevelt. Beneath the col-onel's picture was a sword and gum, crossed. Hovering over the colonel, with gauzy skirts flying around and about the whole, was an angel with beautifully formed wings. The expression of the colonel's face was changeable — now peaceful and happy, again troubled and angry. Mr. Forton says he has spent many wakeful moments trying to analyze! his strange dream, but can make nothing of it, unless Colonel Roose-velt is at present held between two great magnets, one labeled 'War" and the other "Peace."

tions' are as distinguished from men's the old talk when lagner education for women was in controversy—the talk about nomer's sphere. Usually a saste from sphere one in mind. "The ta t is that woman's work is just what she will choose to make it, or what she may have the opportunity to make it. And I think of opportunity often as something which is the result of deliberate choice. In all vocations, according to the last census women have entered and are doing successful work; there may be two or three minor occupations in which they do not appear in the census returns. "If women as economic factors have come to stay, it behooves every locality to treat the occupational preparation of women with the same aeriousness with which we prepare men for productive efficiency. The truth is, that never so much as now has society placed so great premium on the trained mind.

AID TO STENOGRAPHERS.

"This was strikingly illustrated during the acute unemployment situation in New York city last winter. There were something like eight thousand stenographers out of work. Special relief classes for stenographers were started by charitable men and women, and the board of education supplied teachers for these workers who received weekly stipends to keep them alive during the crisis. And yet the Intercollegiate Bureau of Occupations in New York received more demands or trained college women than ever be-

"Many of the stenographers, of course represented training, and the situation was unusual. But the lesson is that many new evenues of occupation are now open for which relatively few prepare themselves, while the familiar pursuits are over-supplied with candidates. One great benefit of these bureaus, and of

Bell, Silent for 30 Years, to Ring

Church to Make Cowsheds; Belfry Is Dismantled

REDDING, July 23.-A bell that has hung silent in the old Lutheran church, two miles this side of Bella Vista, for twenty years, was hung today in the Bapust church belfry in Redding. The bell is the gift of Herman Meyer of Bella Vista, who bought the old church for the material that is in it. The old edifice will be torn down and the material used in building consheds and chicken houses.

The bell it with 100 pounds and has a beautiful tone. Rev. M. Wesley Contes, John Weast, Herman Meyers and a helper worked four hours in taking the bell down from the old Lutheran church believ and loading in on a wagon for transportation to Redding.

In the old Lutheran church, which has served no useful purpose for several years except as a landmark, was the inscription, "Peace on earth and good will to men," which was chalked on the wooden walls by Miss Eleanor Gates, then a pupil of the school assembling in the church. Miss Gates has since won fame as an author under the name of Eleanor Gates-Tulley.

The Baptist church in Redding had a fine bell that was cracked in the fire that destroyed the old church ten years ago. This bell weighed 795 pounds. It was sold a few months ago for the metal it contained, the sum of $125 being realized therefrom.

NO. 153.

WASHINGTON, July 22-James M Sullivan, American minister to the Dominican Republic, has tendered his resignation to President Wilson and it has been accepted. Mr Sullivan's resignation is the consequence of an investigation militarial for the Greek Denominat by Senator James D. Phelan of California into the minister's fitness for his office. The findings were unfavorable to Mr. Sullivan.

Senator Phelan, during his investigution, took testimony in the Domini-can Republic and in the United States at which witnesses charged that Secretary Bryan in appointing Sullivan had been consulted by financiers as-sociated with Samuel M. Jarvis of New York who controlled the Banco National at Santo Domingo City, which was seeking deposits of cueioms dues collected by the United States. Other witnesses gave testi-mony to show that the minister was interested in obtaining contracts there for other Americans.

Former Governor Fort of New Jersey and other witnesses testified that Sullivan was "big-hearted, good-natured and honest."

The report which Secretary Lansing announced today would not be made public until next week, is understood to sustain many of the charges

TWINS LEFT BEHIND BY WOMAN BURGLAR

FRANKLIN, Pa., July 24,-Isaac Mc-Cormick, a section foreman, and his wife were awakened at 3 o'clock in the morn-ing by the crying of a haby. The wife sot out of bed and walked donwstairs to the front porch to see where the sounds came from, but when she heard nothing further she returned to bed. The crying continued, and Mrs. McCormick concluded that it was a neighbor's ch!! she heard When Mr. McCormick arose at 5 o'clock and went downstairs he heard a child crying in the parlor. He investigated and found a basket containing two children, apparently eight weeks old, and probably twins. They were richly dressed. the clothing they wore and other articles in the basket being hand made. In the basket was the following note, written in lead pencil: "Take me in and use me well, for I hain't got no place to dwell. I will be a comfort to you. Feed me catmeal gruel and suger and milk" It developed that whoever left the children in the house had broken through by NEW HOME Sewing Machine Co., all makes, sold, rented and repaired. 625 14th, nr. SECURES ANNULMENT INSTEAD OF DIVORCE

Mrs. Olive Johnson, who discovered in the police court two menths ago that she had not been legally married to Thomas W. Johnson, whose arrest she had caused on a charge of failure to provide, has obtained an annulment of the ceremony in the Superior Court.

The testimony showed that the couple had married in Wyoming before the period of Mrs. Johnson's interlocutory decree of divorce obtained in Colorado had expired. Johnson was assistant manager of a theatrical company playing in Oak-land at the time his wife followed him here and had him arrested.
